CULTURE & HISTORY

CHACCHOBEN MAYAN RUINS (CMY06)

Minimum overall number of participants required 35

Duration: approx. 4 hours

Price: adults 92.99 / children € 72.99

The dawn of the once highly developed Mayan civilisation can be traced back to around 2,000 B.C. and many of their amazing architectural structures can still be visited in Mexico to this date. In around A.D. 700, these clever people built the pilgrimage site of Chacchoben, your destination on this half-day tour. After meeting your bilingual guide, you'll head inland on an air-conditioned coach with information on the site and the Mayans provided during the ride. On arrival, your guide will show you around the site, explaining the purpose of the various structures. Amazingly, one of the pyramids still features some original red paint on its stucco walls, while a mural depicting the astronomical positions of planet Venus has stood the test of time in one of the temples. For those of an energetic disposition, there'll also be time to climb some of Chacchoben's tallest structures: the imposing Gran Basamento, a place where archaeologists found remains of ceremonial offerings dating back to 1,000 B.C.. The highest point of the temple sits above the tree canopy and affords eminently photo-worthy views. You'll also get to find out a little about the area's diverse wildlife and Mayan medicinal plants, which continue to be used to this day. A complimentary bottle of water is also included in your excursion and the relaxing return drive to your ship at the Costa Maya brings your tour to a close. Please note: the price of the tour doesn't exclude the cost of any additional soft drinks, crisps or biscuits however guests may purchase at the archaeological site. As the tour involves long periods of walking over uneven ground and some climbing, it is considered to be unsuitable for guests with mobility problems. About 10-15 minutes will be allocated for guests to make purchases at the market inside the archaeological site. A government-imposed fee of approx. US$5 is payable by guests wishing to use video equipment (including mobile phones) at the archaeological site.

KOHUNLICH MAYAN RUINS (CMY28)

Minimum overall number of participants required 30

Duration: approx. 6½ hours, lunch box included

Price: adults 92.99 / children € 65.99

Situated on the Yucatán Peninsula and one of Mexico's absolute must-sees is the archaeological site of Kohunlich, a terraced city built by the Mayans between approx. A.D. 250 and A.D. 600. The site's unusual-sounding name is derived from the English name of the cohune palm, a common sight in the area. Your tour of cultural discovery begins with an air-conditioned coach ride, during which a bilingual guide will entertain you with information on the Mayan remains ahead. At the site itself, you'll be escorted through the park-like setting of the historical complex, whose highlights include a sunken palace, an acropolis, courtyards and even an ancient ceremonial ball field. But the site's main attraction is undoubtedly the Temple of the Masks, dedicated to the Mayan sun god KinichAhau. Although the oversized stucco masks on either side of the temple's central staircase are easy enough to see from the ground, you'll have to climb up the pyramid-like structure to get a closer look. Parts of the stucco - which dates back to earlier than A.D. 500 - still retain some of their original colour. With memories of the beautifully secluded Kohunlich fresh in your mind, you'll then get to enjoy a light packed lunch on the coach journey back to the Costa Maya and your ship. Please note: the tour involves a 2-hour coach drive each way without a comfort stop; guests are therefore recommended to use the facilities prior to departure. As the tour involves longer periods of walking on uneven ground, guests are requested to take extra care. The tour is considered to be unsuitable for guests with mobility problems or using a wheelchair. Guests are recommended to wear high-factor sunscreen, insect repellent and comfortable shoes. Depending on the exchange rate on the day of the tour, a fee of US$5-US$8 will be payable by guests wishing to use video equipment (including mobile phones) at the archaeological site. The site does not permit the use of tripods, professional video equipment or flash photography. The tour also involves an approx. 5-minute walk between the car park and the entrance of Kohunlich.
