SAVE A TURTLE (COZ67)

Minimum overall number of participants required 2

Duration: approx. 4 hours

Price: adults € 79.99/ children € 55.99

Save, learn, help, protect, enjoy and contribute. This tour is for anyone who wants to leave Cozumel a little better than how they found it. You will be led by the biologist team member who heads the Save the pond Sea Turtle program. This is a practical visit that will really save the sea turtles. The Save to Sea Turtle program has been one of Cozumel's best-kept secrets by having local volunteers and an innovative conservation system that has now been adopted by many other state programs for several years. Cozumel now boasts the largest number of nests in turtles per kilometer any other area in Mexico in a ratio of 3 to 1. This greater volume of fertile land has as much to do with the history of the island as with the Save a Turtle program that had only been open to the local public, but which is now open to select some visitors so they can witness this wonder of nature. There are several aspects for the protection and conservation of turtles; The portion that will be allowed to us due to the time of day when your ship is in port is the "save a turtle" portion. Every night the turtles are born and they go to the sea. This is a natural process, but in the frenzy of the nest, only 80% of the born turtles have the energy and energy to climb. On this tour, we review the previous night events and help rescue 20% of the turtles that were not ready to attack the sea and recover these turtles until their internal organs are mature enough to be released by digging. This process is extremely comforting and successful since you will be in indirect contact with nature and you will be directly involved in saving the little life of the turtle so that it has a real chance of life. Never foreigners have been able to witness the participation in this truly remarkable event, until now. After 1 hour on the beach, it will be time to address the comfort of your boat.
